

A DIRECT PARALLEL...

I see the microcosm as the means whereby this expanding universe keeps on expanding. I see the universe as one of an infinite number of living organisms. I've shared on another post somewhere that as a young boy I had lucid dreams on a regular basis. This experience was so common to me and such a natural thing in my experience that never once did I ever tell a living soul of this experience. Looking back I assumed that everyone had them which accounts for the fact that I never told anyone my experience.

In fact it was not until I was somewhere around 34 or 35 that I related this experience to a lead man I worked for at Lockheed a/c. We had been friends for awhile when he began relating some of his experiences at what he called astral travel. It was at that time that suddenly, after many years the memory of my lucid dreaming came back to me.

Actually I was a little taken back when I realized it had been so many years since I had experienced this, and now all of a sudden the memory of it was back. In later years I've had a few of these kinds of dreams, too few I'm afraid because they are simply wonderful. To me they are particularly wonderful because I have seen that there is a direct parallel between lucid dreaming and the truth about you and I.

The lucid dream is one in which you suddenly come fully awake in. In other words, you suddenly realize you are dreaming, and with that sudden realization all the different colors within the dream become inexpressively beautiful. The euphoria you experience that comes with the knowing that you are in full control of the dream is beyond ability to convey. You do not need faith here, for you know at your deepest level that you are in 100% full control.

What some have referred to as the Adam dream is what I see this reality is that we think of as waking life. The lucid dream has been a great tool that has enabled me to see this life as a dream that humanity is having. I see what we think of as spirituality as the way man becomes lucid in this Adam dream. It is recorded that Jesus the Christ said we would know the truth and that when we did we would be free.

It's also recorded that he said, "I will guide you into all truth". As this truth slowly dawns upon my consciousness, the day will come when all of a sudden the earth in my experience will come alive. This may happen in the twinkling of the eye. Some weeks ago as I was riding in a van with some co workers I had a taste of what is coming for you and I. We were driving down a residential street past the houses when suddenly it happened.

It was as if the world suddenly became three dimensional where it had always been flat. Suddenly the earth became beautiful. Everything suddenly came alive. Suddenly I was filled with the joy of the awesome experience of being in flesh, for it was this being in a physical body that enabled me to taste this life of being human. Suddenly I knew that I was experiencing what would be a normal experience for a totally enlightened child of God.

I then felt such gratitude for the opportunity of coming here, and I knew that for me, this beautiful earth experience was my Heaven and the reason I'd come here. How very few ever realize that to come here should be the greatest experience we could possibly know, and that we all shall know this joy one day. Truly it's just as the psalmist wrote "The earth is full of his glory". Today the creator is asleep in the boat.

It is our hunger and thirst for the birthright that will result in his awakening. When he does, it will mean that I suddenly become lucid. I will at once awaken within this Adam dream. As in any lucid dream, as I awaken, I become immediately aware that it is I that am in control of the dream. Then the dream takes on the reality that my blind eyes could not possibly see before. It is then that I will see you as you are.

This is the age of the coming of the kingdom that has been here all along but hidden to the double minded man. At last, duality will have done its job. Whereas I was blind now I see will be the cry of the lucid ones, still dreaming but fully awake in the dream and in full control, not of anyone, but of the dream. It's wonderful, the knowing that you alone are the one who controls your destiny. That you alone are the manipulator of your dream.
