

EVOLUTION = GODS EXPANSION...

Have you ever considered that without creation, the ONE could never have evolved? And that this that we think of as the creator is us... that we are not two but one, and have been since the day before the dawn of creation... ever since we were first and idea in the only Mind that existed?

Evolution is the way that God continues to expand in knowledge and wisdom for without creation as Gods body, without this Creative Energy's counter part, there would be no way for expansion, for there would be nothing to expand. So creation was the answer to meet the need that God felt that ultimately resulted in the explosion that resulted in Gods physical expression in time space reality.

All that exists on this leading edge of an expanding universe is the only thing that could have supplied the creative energy with the material it needed to build it. All that exists is the issue that came forth from the explosion. There obviously has never been, nor could there ever be, anything in existence that did not originate in the absolute, whatever it was. We cannot know what this absolute was or what it looked like or if it even had any form.

But we know what it looks like now, because it has transmuted into that which we know as creation. For communication purposes we'll refer to this ONE as spirit. We could say that spirit multiplied by self fragmenting into a number of fragments that is not possible to number. This is probably still going on. Each and every fragment carries within it all the potential of its source. If I want to know what my capabilities are I only need take a little while and study the rose.

My potential is revealed to me as I take in the beauty of the creation. As a soul, I am the child of the one who created it all. As man... I am a unique soul in the time space reality that I've created. My source however which is my greater identity, is the ONE that created it all. This ONE... this spirit... is who we all are collectively. "There is one body, one spirit, one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all".

As a soul, my Father is greater than I. As soul however, I am a direct extension of my Father. All that is in existence is in reality... ONE! We all are the manifestation of the ONE. Therefore, as man, my potential has no limits except that which are within the unrenewed portion of the human mind which is only the use that I make out of the only mind there ever was, the one that created me. That mind is actually the only mind we have. We just need to grow into using what we have. For this I look within.
