

THE HIDDEN GOD...

"Verily thou art a god that hides thyself o god of Israel"

God will forever be hidden to the five sense man.

I fail to see why it would ever be beneficial to man to ever know who or what God is, assuming there was one unique form of it on some sublime dimension that was somehow greater then the creation it birthed. There isn't, there simply could not be.

The ego/five sense man, looks for some unique form, some supreme powerful super shinning unique form above all other forms to worship.

It doesn't exist!

And if it did, we would never be able to know of its existence, for it would disguise itself so as to remain hidden.

The truth of the matter is, that the source of all matter, and all creation in all realms is Love.

That's a very good definition of what and who it is that man calls god. From long, long ago we've had enlightened men and women that were excellent ambassadors for Love/source energy, and the ego has always worshipped them.

This was always contrary to the nature of that which these enlightened ones represented.

The source of all creation is Love and this Love has no favorites. Not in men or nations.

Man is a manifestation, an embodiment of this all powerful Loving energy.

When he is born here, he remains somewhat connected to this Source. His five senses however, very soon distract him from his greater consciousness and his prior existence quickly fades from his conscious memory as he is programmed with the consciousness from this three dimensional reality.

Depending on the number of prior incarnations and lessons learned, he may or may not reconnect with Source in any one particular lifetime.

Because he is evolving as all creation is, sooner or later every man will one day reconnect with his greater being.

Every lesson I learn in each incarnation is valuable in terms of the way this changes my vibration rate.

My identity as a soul is unique.

There is not, nor will there ever be another soul exactly like me.

This makes me an indispensable and a vital part of the whole, that which we normally think of as god.

To the degree light is able to penetrate my consciousness, I will see god and creation as one entity.

This can be seen on an intellectual level and as it slowly, gradually sinks down into the deeper levels of my being it changes me over time from ego based consciousness to a heart based one.

This happens when at some point; the deeper I AM consciousness begins to rise within my physical being.

The day will arrive for man when he realizes there is no greater power than that which he is, and has always been.

This will be the result of his mind being transformed from ego based to heart based consciousness.

By the time this knowledge becomes heart based he will be incapable of using his power for personal gain, for by then his experience will be that Love is the dominating influence of his life and he will know completeness and wholeness and total satisfaction that will always fill him to capacity.

Until this knowledge moves out of ego and down into every fiber of his being, his power will be limited.

This is the meaning of "My glory will I not share with another"

Nature is perfect in its timing.

My power to create my future on a conscious level is limited only to the extent that I still function from 3rd density consciousness.

As I am able to absorb greater and greater light I move out of dual consciousness and its effects.

As this happens, Love's vibration becomes mine at greater and greater capacity.

As this happens I go in and out of the land without words.

There are entities that do not vibrate at the level of Love that would enslave all of humanity but for one thing.

There are those of us who have reached Love's vibration level, and those cannot be controlled by a lower vibration.

There is none higher and Love is anti control.
Because of the number of enlightened souls on the planet now, many more that walked in darkness are seeing the light that is beaming forth.

This is a whole new age that is upon us.
Nothing is ever going to be the same as we go forth into this age of light and transformation.

The shift in consciousness is happening on a global scale, and darkness is fleeing before the light.

There are many gods/enlightened ones, and all of them total and are the one that has fragmented for expansion.

There may be a god of this universe and if there is, this one would not be the Source, even though it may be the source of this universe.

There are an infinite number of universes and perhaps each one was created by a god, but if this be true, these gods would not be Source but extensions of same.

So... could there be a prime creator somewhere?

There may be, but if there is, no one in its creation will ever know who or what it is.

This kind of rambling is of the ego and that's ok, we are free to ego ramble.

My own personal feeling on this "mystery" is that the creator and the created cannot be separated for they are one.

The creator created me, as an extension of what it is.

It could not create anything in any other way.

All came out of this mysterious one who has revealed itself as you and me and all creation.

It has revealed its nature in the rose and in the beauty of nature.

It cannot create without creating more of what it is.

The forms are different, the levels of consciousness are infinite, but in essence they all are of the same substance as that of their origin I deem this knowledge valuable, for in the awareness of my oneness with All That Is it speaks to me of my unlimited capacity to heal not only myself but others.

As I am healed from all effects of 3rd density consciousness I will undoubtedly take many with me to the land without words.

This is the place in consciousness where exists the profound peace of the soul overcome with Love.

It a place that all are destined for as they awaken from the dream.