(about the "Real" me...)

THE REAL ME

Brad Cullen is the name of one of the main characters in the soon to be published, full length, spiritual novel I wrote – “Leapfrog.” I’ve used Brad Cullen as the pseudonym for -- and named author of the articles posted on this website.

Why use a pseudonym? It has to do with the spiritual content of this website. I am hoping everyone that visits this website will read the short (63 pages) book, Unlocking The Treasure Chest of God’s Gifts... available absolutely free to anyone that requests it.

Literally hundreds of people all over the world say that Treasure Chest was inspired by God’s own Spirit. I believe this to be true. Because the “real me” has mismanaged my personal life – failed marriages (yes, plural), failed businesses (yes, also plural), I did not want people to judge Treasure Chest on the basis of my sullied reputation. I am a candidate for Paul’s “Chief of Sinners” status (period). Treasure Chest is based on some very real personal experiences of the author... all true and nothing intentionally embellished. Some of these experiences were bizarre, to say the least.

That Treasure Chest is worth reading is attested to by testimonials from New York to Western Samoa, from Ethiopia to New Zealand – and numerous cities in between. Treasure Chest is being used as one of the resource materials for in-home discussion groups in various places all over the globe and even in a couple of churches here in the U.S. – Reading Treasure Chest has been credited for spiritual growth and dramatic changes in the lives of many people... as well as physical and spiritual healing.

The foregoing is not meant to be self-aggrandizing since, as stated above, I believe the Spirit of God directed the writing of this little book. I live in the “miraculous”... the book attests to some of these “miracles.” The focus of the book is not that the author can work miracles... but that one of the most startling statements attributed to whom the Western World refers to as Jesus, “the Christ,” is: Anyone that believes in me, will perform the very same miracles that you have seen me perform and even greater miracles than these.

If I, an admitted “chief of sinners,” can do what Jesus did... i.e., heal diverse diseases, get rid of spiritual entities causing all kinds of difficulties in life, give eyesight to the blind, hearing to the deaf and so on... then, just as Jesus said... ANYONE can and will. The book explains how anyone can get to the point of doing the works Jesus did... in the very same way that Jesus was able to do them. He said, “The works you’ve seen me do are not mine -- no, the Father in me does the works.”

Bottom line is... this page is about the Author and Finisher of our faith... and that is not the “real me,” nor is it the pseudonym I have chosen to go by.
