

BECOMING LUCID...

There is a real parallel concerning this dream we label "reality" and what we think of as the dream world. The lucid dream scenario is a definite message to me that says when I become lucid in this dream world that I along with mass consciousness has created; I will be in 100% conscious control of my part of the dream.

In bringing heaven to earth we do change the dream/mass consciousness. In a lucid dream, you can manipulate... you can change anything, any circumstance, situation, etc you desire. That's what is so wonderful about coming awake in the dream. Here is what gives you the fantastically high level of euphoria in a lucid dream...it is because since you are fully aware of the fact that you are dreaming... with this knowledge comes the knowing that you are 100% in control of your dream. This is where the wonderful feeling comes in because it always accompanies the knowing that you are in control.

If you want to fly you can fly high above the tree tops you can soar into the Milky Way etc. If a wild aggressive beast shows up {and one sometimes did in my dreams}you feel challenged, yet confident because this is your dream, and even though you feel a certain amount of intimidation you also feel adventurous because again, you hold tight to the knowing that it's all just a dream. So you walk up, look the huge beast in the eye and what happens...? It turns and runs away from you.

There is a wonderful, wonderful feeling that steals over you, once the knowledge hits you and all of a sudden you KNOW that what you are experiencing is a dream, because always automatically what accompanies that awareness is that nothing can harm you in any way for this is your dream and because of that fact you are certain beyond all doubt that you are in 100% control no matter what circumstance or what situation you find yourself in.

What I have described in the paragraph just above this one is a type, a shadow of the reality we will create as the light of day awakens us to the fact, the "KNOWING"... THIS IS MY DREAM AND THEREFORE I AM IN 100% CONTROL of it!

Perception changes as a result of the light we are able to absorb. As I change the way I look at things, the things I look at change. It's all about perception which depends on the degree of light I am receiving. We are... those of us who are light workers, depositing the light to all who are ready to receive it as we are also anchoring it onto the earth.
